

Every once in a while there's someone who Steps into your life and becomes a piece of you
Like the sun to the sky and the stars to the moon

Half of the Whole

Woofers a part of Mandy
And she's a part of her dog

In each lives a piece of the other's soul
Each one makes a half of the whole

They're both a part

Each one is a half of the whole

From the start it was love at first sight he knew
From the moment she held him his love for Mandy grew
Like the grass from the earth and the flowers from the rain

Woofers a part of Mandy
And she's a part of her dog

In each lives a piece of the other's soul
Each one makes a half of the whole

They're both a part

Each one is a half of the whole

More than sister and brother or mother son
Like waves in the ocean
Mandy and Woofers are one
They go together like
Blue and sky, love and heart
Each one a part of the other

Woofers a part of Mandy
And she's a part of her dog

In each lives a piece of the other's soul
Each one makes a half of the whole

They're both a part

Each one is a half of the whole
